THE GAME TO BE PLAYED BY SECESSION ISTS.-When we think of all the successive steps in this iniquitous secession movement the means which have been used to mislead and dupe the people, the wholesale lying and deception which the conspirators have resorted to in order to keep up a reign of terror whereever secession prevails, thereby depriving the people of all chance to know the real condition of public affairs, we are amazed that there are any Kentuckians who desire secession to obtain a foothold in Kentucky. But there are quite a number who do, and many of the leaders in Kentucky are as unscrupulous and dishonest as their colleagues in the Cotton States. They do not hesitate to send out to the country any sort of fabricated tale in order to excite alarm and terrify the masses.

The editor of the Cynthiana News has caught the disease which prevails amongst the secession leaders. In his last issue he deliberately puts forth these wholesale slanders upon the Union troops assembled in Garrard county: OUTRAGES .- We have been informed that Lincoln's soldiers now encamped in and about Garrard county, many of whom are from Ohio and Pennsylvania, having emigrated to this State in small numbers, in citizens' garb, to keep down suspicion, are committing outrages known only in countries where civil war has broken out. We are told that these unhung scoundrels enter th houses of unoffending citizens and insult their wive and daughters, maltreat the old men, and appro priate provisions, &c, to their own use, without re-muncration, and if remonstrance is offered the lives of the people are threatened. Such is the con-dition of affairs brought about by the false cry of Union. A day of retribution is near at hand, and we to men in this State who have insti-

Now we venture the assertion that the Editor of the News received no such information as he pretends to have received. He got the idea from his own secession brain: there is not a particle of truth in the charge he prefers against the Union troops in Garrard. These troops are all Kentuckians. They are honest, hard-working, industrious, sober men-a band of men of whom any State may be proud-who have chosen to assemble under the flag of their country and upon their own soil for the defence of it and themselves from any invasion or aggression by enemies within or enemies without. Most of them are the brave, hardy sons of the mountains who know their rights and dare maintain them on Kentucky soil or elsewhere. They are too brave and manly to "enter the these villainous charges is true, and all men | hold their meeting over it. molton iron.

The object of the News is very apparent, The Editor desires to arouse against those Union troops wide-spread prejudice and thereby dam- chiefs, have they not shirts? age the cause in which they are enlisted. The same game has been played throughout the the Union papers from the North were prohibited from entering the Confederate States. Not even the Union papers of Kentucky can be transmitted to their subscribers in the South And as to Union papers in the seceding States. there are none; the last one has been put to a regard to the rest of the world, except so far to place the people of the loyal States in a true light. It is thus that the people of the South read nothing except that which is intended as King Jefferson Davis. If a reign of terror troops in Kentucky the same hate which is aroused in the seceding States towards the U. ommence a wholesale system of lying about those troops. But they will fail to accomplish the end they desire. The News further says: If the Governor, in his wisdom, shall find this encampment in Garrard county is held in violation of State laws, we hope he will issue his proclamation, calling on the soldiers there to leave the State, and if they refuse to go let him call the people of the State, and any other State who will respond to his call, and rally to his standard, and drive these violators of law from the State at the

Here is a direct invitation to Gov. Magoffin to do in Kentucky what Gov. Jackson did in Missouri-issue a proclamation calling on the people of other States to help him make war on the Kentucky United States troops upon the soil of Kentucky. The proposition is fiendish and devilish in the extreme.

None can pretend that those troops are eneamped in Garrard county in violation of any Federal law. None but a fool would assert that they are violating any State law.

And we have therefore to say to the News and all others concerned that when they or persons from "any other State" shall attempt to drive from Kentucky soil "at the point o the bayonet" or otherwise Kentucky Union men, here assembled under the flag of their country for the defence of the State in which they live, they may expect to have to meet in such an undertaking the 100,000 gallant and brave Union men of Kentucky. It has come to a nice pass indeed if Kentucky can be in sulted and outraged in every conceivable form by Tennessee, and threatened with invasion from that quarter, and yet Kentuckians are not to be permitted to assemble upon their own soil under the national flag for their defence and protection. If Kentucky is to be invaded

B. Leight, as a part of the Executive Committee of the discomfitted secessionists at the Courthouse, demands an apology. The gentlemen of whom we speak are all uncompromising Union men, and the secessionists undertook to make tools of them by a series of false pretences. They knew that the meeting was to be at the Court-house and they intended to be at it. The three first we have heard from, and some of them were assured that the Hon. Jas. Guthrie was to be on the Committee; it was urged upon all of them that there would be a large number of Union men at the meeting: that they were Christians and ought not to refuse to serve their country. It was urged on the last named one of the three, that the other gentlemen had promptly agreed to serve, while they indignantly declare that they never gave any such consent. Each of these gentlemen would have felt it as an insult, to be asked to lend his name to a secession brat, dressed up in Union clothes. Neither of them would have listened to a proposition to serve that they were serving Union men, and the adopted unanimously: use, which the owners feel to be degrading to them. When the secessionists ran away to a meeting of their own, they should not have used names they had cajoled for a Union meeting. It is a pretty piece of tion as a mediator.

STOPPING OF ARMS AND MUNITIONS. - We unrstand that thirteen cars, loaded with arms and mitions, together with six rifled cannon, destheastern Kentucky, were stopped the head of a band of secessionists and sent back ighest authority for saving that those Kentuckians are not organizing for aggression or invasion but simply for self-protection. They have a right to protect themselves and to obtain, if they can, the means of doing it, and the U.S. Government has the right to send them the means of doing it. The Federal Government has a right, and is under an obligation, to furnish all loyal citizens, wherever they may be, with the means of maintaining their freed m as citizens of the United

The attempt to send arms to Southeastern Kentucky was not a violation of Kentucky neutrality. No man of honesty and sense can pretend that it was. It was the exercise, or an efquestioned. We regret this deed of violence in Harrison county, and our indignation is as great as our regret. The object of the perpetrators of the deed is to bring on a collision with the Federal Government, and they may succeed.

The battle then commenced at six o'clock and ten minutes, and lasted until eleven, Gen. Lyon having been killed very soon after nine o'clock.
